

Biography

Agata Rzędowska

Author of several hundred texts about electric cars and their surroundings. The originator and editor of the book "Conversations about electromobility", the first Polish publication in which practitioners and megatrend observers take the floor, showing what electric cars are for them and what changes they will contribute to. Agata works for RDC Polish Radio, the only electric mobility and alternative fuels radio weekly program. Her listeners are from all over country who listen to her podcast after the live show. She promotes women in motorsports, invites leaders and mentors FIA Girls on Track program. Her guests are women from automotive industry, students, scientists and daily drivers.

She writes about electromobility and more for the portal Green-news.pl and for Green Car Magazine published by the Foundation for the Promotion of Electric Vehicles. She has joined the international team Women's World Car of the Year, the only car awards in the world comprised entirely of women who are experts in their field.
